The Veterans History Project Urges Public to Submit Memories of their Veterans in New Library of Congress PSA

PSA Now Available for Memorial Day

Frederick, MD – The Library of Congress Veterans History Project (VHP) is marking its twentieth anniversary by issuing a new :30 second TV broadcast Public Service Announcement (PSA) in English and Spanish. The PSA invites the public to use VHP’s online database full of veterans’ interviews, photos, letters, diaries and journals as a resource.

For the past two decades the Library of Congress Veterans History Project has had a mission: to collect the stories and original materials of U.S. veterans.

Now more than ever the stories of our veterans play an integral part in the preservation of our history and help educate future generations, because their stories are our stories.

For more information visit our online press kit:

Please email us at info@3roads.com to let us know if you’ve downloaded the PSA.

Veterans History Project was created in 2000 by Congress as part of the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress. VHP’s mission is to collect, preserve and make accessible the personal accounts of U.S. military veterans so that future generations may hear directly from veterans and better understand the realities of war. VHP relies on volunteers to interview veterans to contribute to the permanent library collection by submitting audio and video interviews, as well as original photographs and correspondence.
